The Gathering Keynote Speaker Will Be Karen Williams!

Karen Williams is one of today’s hottest comedy stars. She is known for her quick repartee, insightful commentary, audience rapport, and sheer likeability. Armed with her “healing with humor” philosophy, Karen is a modern-day alchemist and motivational humorist, whose audiences revel in her cathartic laughter and whose peers consider her a comic’s comic. Karen also has the unique distinction of being the nation’s first openly Lesbian Black comic to include specifically Lesbian material in her act.

An international comic favorite, Karen is a star entertainer with Olivia Travel, where she’s garnered some 200 laugh-filled cruise and resort trips around the globe.

Alix Dobkin Sings Women’s Music!

“My career in women’s music sprang from the soil of J.S. Bach, The Red Army Chorus, Louis Armstrong, and Broadway shows, topped off by the folk music scene of the 1960s, and has granted me a life rich, challenging, and satisfying beyond my wildest dreams” (from the Epilogue of My Red Blood, Lambda Literary Award Memoir Finalist). Focusing during the first decade on a traditional, international, and contemporary/protest repertory, I then came out as a Lesbian in 1972 and turned to writing and singing for women in general and to building Lesbian culture in particular.

Alix will give a concert during the Gathering.

María Cora Has Latin Music In Her Heart and Soul!

María Cora, who will entertain us at the Gathering, is a fascinating multi-talented artist, writer, poet, filmmaker, performer, and musician. She grew up in Puerto Rico, and Latin music was the soundtrack of her life. She came to the US to attend college and began singing in a friend’s rock band just for fun, but Latin music was always in her heart and soul.

I Need a Snack is a hilarious one-hour solo comedy special aired regularly on LOGO-TV. Karen is a featured comic in We’re Funny That Way, the internationally acclaimed film shot at Buddies in Bad Times in Toronto and shown regularly on HBO, as well as a nominee for the 1999 GLAMA Award for her irreverent comedy CD, human beings: what a concept.

A comedy writer and former television host of the New York variety show In The Life, her writings appear in numerous anthologies, including Joke Stew, Revolutionary Laughter, Out in All Directions, and Out, Loud, and Laughing. Founder and CEO of the International Institute of Humor and Healing Arts (hahainstitute.com), Karen has successfully branded the HaHA Institute as the go-to resource network for educational programs, workshops, and seminars focused on the healing power of humor.

Her keynote address, The Healing Power of Humor, will have you laughing! Humor is empowering! To cope in today’s hectic world of technological explosions, a sense of humor is vital. The power of humor lies in its ability to restore vitality, preserve sanity, and strengthen self-identity. With humor, our busy and complex lives become manageable.

You will learn to

1. Understand the physiological benefits of laughter.
2. Utilize humor to reduce stress and “burnout.”
3. Improve communication skills with others, using appropriate humor.

Don’t miss it!

When María heard there was an all-women salsa band in the San Francisco Bay Area, she moved there in the 1980s, determined to be its lead singer.

Her inspired lead vocals have added pizzazz to many groups since she landed in the Bay Area, including Orquesta Sabrosita, Los Pleneros de la 24, Azúcar y Crema, Baba-cool, Once, Canto de Corazón, Different Touch, and Azúcar Con Aché (“Sweetness with powerful blessings”).

Her versatile bilingual talent shines in work as diverse as principal narrator for the documentary Every Child Is Born a Poet: The Life of Piri Thomas, as writer/director and narrator for the short film Negra Linda, as vocalist on the Piri Thomas recording “’No Mo’ Barrio Blues,” and as writer/actress of the play Verbo Corazón: Latina Heart Rhythm.

María has served as MC/host for a multitude of events, including the Michigan Womyn’s Music Festival, the San Francisco World Drum Festival, the Redwood Music Festival, and the Encuentro del Canto Popular. She has been honored with a La Estrella award, a Lesbian of Achievement and Vision (LAVA) award, a Prisma award for achievement in performing arts, and a WAMMIE Alternative Music award for Best Latin Band (with Azúcar y Crema).

On top of all that, María currently manages 13 older adult choirs for the Community Music Center in San Francisco.

Her performance is sure to rock your socks!

“Young Lady” Is No Compliment
By Jaqi Thompson, 1947

I worked as a toll taker on the Golden Gate Bridge from 1995 to 2011, when I retired. When customers called me “young lady” as if it were a compliment, I used to laugh and reply, “That’s what my grandmother called me when I was five years old and had done something she didn’t approve of.” So “young lady” makes me think of getting a lecture.

Unfortunately, an older co-worker loved being called “young lady.” She took it as a sincere and honest compliment. Her reaction contributed to customers’ continuing to use “young lady,” and they expected praise from the other toll takers. Of course, they only used it on the very oldest of us women, as if we were too stupid to notice that they reserved the term for the oldest of us.

So, when my laugh and reply didn’t sink in, and the customer added, peevishly, “I meant it as a compliment,” I only laughed again, and by then the whole time of paying toll/getting change/giving receipt had been used up and they had to drive off. That also helped me laugh it off and move on.

Dealing with Sleep Issues as We Age
By Jan Griesinger, 1942

I recommend The Sleep Solution: Why Your Sleep Is Broken and How to Fix It by W. Chris Winter.

Yes, I am having big sleep problems—hopefully none of you have these. Here are some important things in the book:

- Decreased memory function is associated with poor sleep.
- Age reduces the need for sleep. Adults over the age of 65 may require as little as five hours.
- Don’t eat within three hours of bedtime—late snacks such as bananas, walnuts, milk, chamomile tea with honey are okay.
- No light—make your bedroom really dark.
- Get exercise in the morning in bright light—this has a positive effect on sleep.

OLOC Vision Statement

OLOC will be a cooperative community of Old Lesbian feminist activists from many backgrounds working for justice and the well-being of all Old Lesbians.

The following articles are from our new series on the many isms of discrimination.

Anti-Semitism: A Subtle and Persistent Discrimination
By Bonnie Wagner, 1942

Anti-Semitism is seldom mentioned when we talk about the “isms.” Those of us who are Jewish, however, experience this ism frequently. The assumption that we all celebrate Easter and Christmas as our holidays is one way in which our Jewish identity is ignored. Moreover, non-Jews often misunderstand about some Jewish mannerisms. Growing up in a Jewish household, we are often animated and passionate about our viewpoints and beliefs, and sometimes we interrupt others in the course of a discussion. This behavior is cultural and not intended rudeness.

A frequent stereotype about Jews is that we have money and are good at handling money. We are often recommended to serve on fundraising committees for this reason. But those who promote this stereotype also see us as greedy.

Jewish holidays do not receive the same respect as Christian holidays. No one would schedule a conference on Christmas Day, but major Jewish holidays such as Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur are often ignored. The first conference on Lesbian battering was held on Yom Kippur. If a public event is held during Passover, matzoh as well as bread should be served. I was on an Olivia cruise during Passover, and there was only bread in the restaurants and on the buffet tables.

Jews are divided on Israeli policy, treatment of Arabs, and the creation of a Palestinian state. Not all Jews are Zionists, but many people assume that all Jews are the same. And recently, many revisionist views about the Holocaust attempt to negate our history by denying the brutal reality of the millions of Jews murdered.

Unlike People of Color, Jews are invisible, as are many Lesbians, because we can pass as being part of the mainstream culture. People who voice negative stereotypes about Jews do not always know who we are.

Immigration and Class
By Sally Tatnall, 1937

At a landscaping/nursery factory last June in Cleveland, Ohio, all workers were told to attend a meeting. Coffee and doughnuts were served. When everyone was gathered, the Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agency swept in and arrested about 150 undocumented workers. The trickery used by ICE to trap hardworking people is a travesty.

The relationship of immigration to this country’s race and class divide is apparent. Racism and classism demean people who are seen as not important. The US has a long history of having plenty of space for those who have value to us and who can afford to immigrate legally.

The workers being tricked do have value to the landscaping and nursery industry, but these employees are poor and working class people. In this culture, the poor do not matter. In this culture, there is no one of power to fight the battles of those with less economic status. Efforts to change this are met with severe opposition.

Does this societal treatment of poor and working people mean middle and upper class people have more value? Does it mean middle and upper class people know more? Can those with economic resources really erase the privilege that carried them to a place of value? Becoming a citizen of our country takes from $4,000 to $10,000. Poorly paid working people can never amass these sums.

Never deny this is both race- and class-based. Our country invites immigrants of color to work at cheap wages. Some People of Color are able to achieve education and move out of their class designation. Those not able to move out of their class status will forever be seen as less able. This is the legacy of race- and class-based valuing. We will never know what treasures have been lost.

The Cost of Racism

A national report released in April 2018 from the WK Kellogg Foundation and Altarum, a nonprofit organization dedicated to transforming health and health care, found that the US economy would be $8 trillion larger by 2050 if the country eliminated racial disparities in health, education, incarceration, and employment.

Senior Bullying

By Jan Griesinger, 1942

Our local [Athens, Ohio] newspaper ran an article: “A Surprising Bullying Battleground: Senior Centers.” I learned that senior centers are starting to use anti-bullying programs.

A woman at Glen St. Andrew Living Community said she was the victim of relentless bullying by residents who focused on her being a Lesbian. She dropped out of high school when she was bullied because students found out that she was a Lesbian. She was even more horrified to find bullying among residents in senior housing. Lambda Legal, which defends LGBTQ rights, took on the case and sued Glen St. Andrew. A federal judge dismissed the suit last year, and an appeals court decision is pending.

Maybe this is a topic we need to discuss. Send comments to us at info@oloc.com.

Thank you for helping to ensure that we keep Del Martin’s legacy alive.

Girlstown Honors Mina and Sharon

Mina Kay Meyer (deceased) and Sharon M. Raphael, 1941, now have their names permanently engraved on a wall located in Harvey Milk Promenade Park in Long Beach, California. On May 17, they were among six LGBTQ+ leaders from the Long Beach community who were inducted onto the newly designed Equality Plaza Honor Wall at the Park. The City of Long Beach, via the Mayor’s Office, honored them with the Harvey Milk Award for their “exceptional or outstanding contributions to the greater Long Beach area LGBTQ+ community.”

Sharon is OLOC’s Research Gatekeeper and a proud OLOC member. Mina, 1940–2016, was Co-Director of OLOC’s Steering Committee for six years and made it part of her mission to place disabled Old Lesbians’ needs at the top of her list.

Sharon wore an OLOC pin at the big ceremony. Harvey, a gay civil rights hero and San Francisco Supervisor, was assassinated while in office in 1978. Sharon enjoys having an award in Harvey Milk’s name. She stated, “Harvey had many Old Women supporters when he ran for office. He was aware of Old Women’s issues and Lesbians of all ages. He did not hide behind class, gender, or race. That is a reason why I remember Harvey fondly. I met him only once. He was a down-to-earth person, but one you remembered.”

The park was redesigned after undergoing improvements to make it a space that connects people through a shared sense of purpose. The redesign is part of a larger City-led initiative to connect people and institutions through more open, diverse, and inclusive public spaces for people to gather.

Long Beach has repeatedly been recognized by the Human Rights Campaign for upholding LGBT rights in its municipal laws and policies.

What a great contribution these two have made to their LGBTQ+ community and beyond!

National Women’s Music Festival
By Bonnie Wagner, 1942, and Ruth Debra, 1944

We (Bonnie and Ruth) attended the National Women’s Music Festival in Middleton, Wisconsin, in July. The vast majority of attendees at this event are Old Lesbians. We did a workshop on OLOC that about 20 Lesbians attended. We focused on the upcoming Gathering and had a lengthy discussion about activism. All of the participants described the events, marches, and demonstrations they had participated in on the local level. This was a lively discussion, and people seemed excited to hear about the 2019 Gathering.

We encouraged everyone to join OLOC, and we distributed Reporters, brochures, and the rainbow cards.

I (Bonnie) frequently talked to women there about OLOC and gave out materials. Ruth passed out OLOC materials at her [t-shirt business] booth.

At the artists’ breakfast, I was seated next to women from Columbus. They were very interested in the upcoming Gathering, and we hope they will attend.

The National Women’s Music Festival is a great event for OLOC to be involved with. It is a haven for Old Lesbians and their dogs.

OLOC works for change by supporting:
• comprehensive immigration reform
• elimination of violence against women
• enactment of universal single-payer healthcare for all
• an end to corporate “personhood”
• an end to any curtailment of voting rights
• the Black Lives Matter movement
• the Say Her Name! movement

Here are some of the organizations the Steering Committee of OLOC recommends our members support:
- Presente, presente.org
- One Billion Rising, onebillionrising.org
- National Coalition Against Domestic Violence (NCADV), ncadv.org
- Healthcare Now, healthcare-now.org
- End Citizens United, endcitizensunited.org
- National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), naacp.org
- American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), aclu.org
- Black Lives Matter, blacklivesmatter.com
- Say Her Name, aafp.org/sayhername
- Black Women Rise, blackwomenrise.net
- Race Forward, www.raceforward.org
- NIA Collective, niacollective.org
- ZAMI NOBLA, zaminobla.org

If you now receive The Reporter in one format and want to switch to or add the other (print and electronic), please email susan@oloc.org; write to OLOC at POB 834, Woodstock, NY 12498; or phone 888-706-7506.

USING ART TO CELEBRATE MEMORY
Colorado Chapter
By Katherine Wood, 1954

In May, our chapter celebrated our 25th year. We had speakers, music, laughter, and sighs as stories were told and we remembered those 25 years. Janet Gilmore, 1948, the chair of the anniversary party, created a ceremony to remember our sisters who are no longer with us. All agreed that it was a very touching afternoon.

As part of the celebration, each member created her own banner. These banners were strung together along with banners denoting historical moments. They decorated the walls around the room. Shari Wilkins, 1947, and Deborah McNair, 1952, provided beautiful flower arrangements and candles for each table.

Janet Gilmore made a beautiful “We Remember Her” quilt. Each leaf on the quilt represents a sister who has passed into eternal OLOC.

Cutting the cake (below) are members Carmah Lawler, 1929, who has belonged to our chapter since 1994, and Mary Jo Osterman, 1941, whose partner, D.J. Furnish, was one of our three founders. She has been part of our chapter since 2001.

In June, the chapter heard from guest Mia Furtado, who spoke about a seven-step action plan white allies can follow to help dismantle racism, a timely topic in this political climate.

Sue Olmsted, 1943, hosted us at her beautiful mountain home for our annual weenie roast in July. Trish Bangert, 1949, our political updater, provided a 1950s video and spoke about all things politically impacting Old Lesbians.

In August, our chapter attended a Lesbian dance in Boulder.

MARCHING WITH PRIDE AND PLANNING OUR FUTURE
Massachusetts Pioneer Valley Chapter
By Emily Greene, 1946

The front page of the Greenfield Recorder on June 25 read “A Sea of Rainbow Flags Marches Through.” Our second annual Pride Day march was a huge success, with hundreds marching to Energy Park for a rally, followed by a tea dance and a nighttime concert. Our group also proudly marched in the famous Northampton Pride Parade.

June was a busy month, with an excellent monthly meeting presentation on classism by Jean, Connie, and Carol. We looked at how we grew up: Was it in poverty, working class, middle class, or upper class? And how does this impact us, even today? We broke into small groups and discussed how many of us in retirement have dropped to poverty level, barely surviving on our Social Security check.

In July, Lynne presented Part 2 of the Aging Brain. A small group is organizing our Mini Michfest week of camping in the Berkshires. This year, 22 signed up. We were also invited to join the Hudson Valley Chapter at their summer picnic in Woodstock, New York.

Another small group has been meeting regularly to explore the possibility of some of us moving closer together to form an aging Lesbian community. Do we want a communal house or separate spaces? Where should this community be located? And how can we create the space to stay active and engaged, and with the access we need to age in place? We talked with local agencies, looked at apartment buildings, senior centers, and a house big enough for the six of us. We have lots more to explore as we hope to make this dream a reality. We always come back to our gratitude for an organization like OLOC that helps us stay connected.

MARCHING TO PERSIST AND RESIST
Hudson Valley Chapter
By Retts Scauzillo, 1953

On Saturday, March 24, the Hudson Valley OLOC Chapter marched to support gun control legislation and young people nationally. Fifteen of us held our banner high and marched three miles to demonstrate our solidarity with the students in Parkland, Florida.

We produced a concert at the LGBTQ Center on May 20 featuring Nia and Ness with Nedra Johnson. Nia and Ness are a Black Lesbian dancer/poet/performance-art duo based in Brooklyn, New York. Nedra Johnson is a singer/songwriter multi-instrumentalist living in New York City. We are hoping to produce more Lesbian concerts in the future. In addition to presenting live concerts, Hudson Valley OLOC screened the film Radical Harmonies, an important and entertaining tribute to women’s music. Many in the audience had been unaware of the power and influence of this movement that helped organize Lesbians in the 1970s, 1980s, and 1990s.

Bonnie Wagner, 1942, and Alix Dobkin, 1940, attended a trial of a local African-American woman who was arrested for trespassing during a demonstration at Congressman Faso’s office.

We participated in the Hudson Valley Pride March on Sunday, June 3. Twenty members walked behind the OLOC banner in New Paltz, New York. The theme of the March was Stand Together.

We also marched in Woodstock, New York, on June 30 to protest the government’s treatment of immigrants and the practice of separating children from their parents at the border. Alix Dobkin sang two songs at the rally and was well received. Hudson Valley OLOC is committed to fighting for immigrants who come to our country, a land of immigrants.

Hudson Valley OLOC is continuing to RESIST when we can and uphold the mission statement of National OLOC.

PAST ACCOMPLISHMENTS/FUTURE PLANS
Boston Chapter
By Sue Reamer, 1942

Our final meeting of the 2017–18 year was on Sunday, May 6. The topic was “What’s Happening? Resisting the Assault on America II.” After last year’s standing-room-only crowd at the first “Resisting the Assault on America,” Boston OLOC felt it was time to revisit the ways in which this Administration is assaulting America. We had a wonderful panel of expert speakers who explained how their organizations are responding and resisting these attacks on the rights of the most vulnerable among us. The organizations represented were the ACLU Foundation; the labor union SEIU Local 509; GLAD (GLBTQ Legal Advocates & Defenders); and the Immigration Unit of the Greater Boston Legal Services; as well as a disability rights activist. Attendance was about 60, with a lively discussion following the presentations.

Our Planning Committee met in late June to go over our 2018–19 programming. We do not have meetings in June, July, and August and will resume meetings in September with a Reunion Luncheon.

Proposed programming for 2018–19:
Sept. 2: Reunion Luncheon.
Oct. 7: Film by Vito Russo, The Celluloid Closet, followed by discussion.
Nov. 4: Elder Abuse (panel on financial, emotional, micro-aggressions).
Dec. 2: Creative at Any Age—Cross-generational readings.
Jan. 6: Panel on feminist history.
Feb. 3: Medical/Legal Documents—End of Life Wishes (wills, powers of attorney, health proxies).
March 3: Aging? How to “age-in-place.”
April 7: Social lunch.
May 5: Political topic or film.

OLOC Mission Statement
To eliminate the oppression of ageism and to stand in solidarity against all oppressions.
VARIED ACTIVITIES KEEP US ENGAGED
San Francisco Bay Area Chapter
By Susan Chacin, 1945

San Francisco Bay Area OLOC has over 400 women on our mailing list and we see 30–45 at events. We couldn’t hold retreats this year because the camp where we met was damaged in the Napa wildfires, and we have not found a replacement. We hope to return to Enchanted Hills when it reopens.

To make up for that, we’ve added extra events. A day-long event on June 3 featured a salon at which members presented their writing and art. Our annual picnic was on July 22 and again proved to be a good way for new women to check us out. An afternoon dance is planned for September 16 with member Judy Graboyes as DJ.

Day-long get-togethers are the core of our program, held at least three times each year. We check in with each other in the morning, enjoy a catered lunch, and engage in a structured afternoon program. Recent topics were “How our lives have intersected with the social movements of our times, such as civil rights, women’s liberation, and Lesbian and gay rights” and “Experiences and feelings about asking for help, being asked for help, offering help, and receiving help.”

Bay Area OLOC participated again this year as a community partner in the Queer Women of Color Media Arts Project film festival in June, and members attended the Asian Pacific Islander Queer Women & Transgender Community Lunar New Year Banquet. We marched in the San Francisco Gay Pride Parade on June 24 behind National OLOC Steering Committee member Ali Marrero-Calderon, 1948. She organized a Puerto Rican Lesbians and Allies contingent. Ali is the 2018 Gilbert Baker Pride Founders’ Awardee. Check out Ali’s insightful video on the SF Pride website (www.sfpride.org/). OLOC member Jewelle Gomez, 1948, also has an interview there.

BRIEF REPORT FROM VERMONT AND NEW YORK
Champlain Valley of VT and NY Chapter
By Madeleine Winterfalcon, 1950

In August our chapter went to the Morgan Horse Farm open house. We’ll report more activities in the next issue.

DC CHAPTER DEMONSTRATES
Washington Metro Area OLOC Chapter
By Carol Anne Douglas, 1946

Although the Washington Metro Area OLOC chapter has seen some members move away, there are always demonstrations to attend. Two members went to the Keep Families Together protest on June 30. Thousands of people of all ages crowded Lafayette Square despite the high heat. Messages on signs asked if we are living in Nazi Germany. One sign quoted Leviticus on being good to the stranger. Signs showed pictures of children behind bars. We met two young Lesbians who were delighted to hear the name “Old Lesbians Organizing for Change.” We could scarcely hear the speeches because there was such a crowd. After the rally, there was a march.

On the evening of July 18, one of us attended a vigil in front of the White House demanding an end to corruption. Demonstrators held up large orange letters spelling out T-R-E-A-S-O-N. Signs said "No One Is Above the Law." The speakers included Sen. Richard Durbin, D-III.; Sen. Richard Blumenthal, D-Conn.; and Sen. Sheldon Whitehorse, D-RI. With about 2,000 demonstrators present, it was possible to get close enough to hear the speeches. The speakers said the corruption in the present administration is unprecedented and that Brett Kavanaugh should not be confirmed for the Supreme Court because, among many other things, he believes that a president should not be investigated.

We are currently seeking more members.
