

OLOC Bookstore List

Last updated August 2020

How to Find Feminist/Lesbian Bookstores Still in Operation...

- OLOC Website: <https://oloc.org/feminist-bookstores/>
- Charis Bookstore website: <https://www.charisbooksandmore.com/list-feminist-bookstores>

Learn More about the Feminist Bookstore Movement

The Feminist Bookstore Movement: Lesbian Antiracism and Feminist Accountability, Kristen Hogan.

April 2016 – Duke University Press

- ISBN: 978-0-8223-6129-9

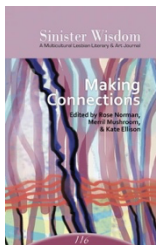

<https://www.dukeupress.edu/the-feminist-bookstore-movement>

You can watch a substantial interview with Kristen at <https://vimeo.com/164760844>

Sinister Wisdom #116: Making Connections, Spring 2020

<http://www.sinisterwisdom.org/SW116>

- Also watch a video of contributors reading from this issue during the Celebrating Southern Feminist Bookstore Herstory with Sinister Wisdom Issue 116

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=g_JpYDppVAs&feature=youtu.be Feminist Revolution in Literacy: Women's Bookstores in the United States, Junko Onosaka.

Routledge, 2010. ISBN 9780415882606

<https://www.routledge.com/Feminist-Revolution-in-Literacy-Womens-Bookstores-in-the-United-States/Onosaka/p/book/9780415882606>

A Labor of Love: The History of Feminist and Lesbian Bookstores and Publishing

Written, Produced, and Narrated by Mev Miller, 1995

<https://litwomen.org/2018/05/04/a-labor-of-love-radio-documentary/>

This radio documentary pays tribute to the work of women's/feminist and lesbian bookstores and publishers. Produced in 1995 to celebrate the 25-year anniversaries of:

- Publisher - The Feminist Press at CUNY in New York, NY
- Periodical - Off Our Backs: A Women's Newsjournal in Washington, DC
- Bookstore - Amazon Bookstore in Minneapolis, MN

The Disappearing L: Erasure of Lesbian Spaces and Culture, Bonnie J. Morris.

SUNY Press, 2016 – Chapter 3 – Hunting & Gathering – A Literacy of One's Own
ISBN13: 978-1-4384-6177-9

<http://www.sunypress.edu/p-6263-the-disappearing-l.aspx>

Reprise of “We Built a Movement from Books”

The explosion of bookstores, publishing houses, libraries and literature courses was an important component of San Francisco's struggle for identity and community. You can read more about Carol Seajay's part in this history online at:

http://www.foundsf.org/index.php?title=Carol Seajay, Old Wives Tales and the%20Feminist Bookstore Network